AUTO TO THANK FOR GOOD ROADS OVER COUNTRY

Automobile is Most Powerful and Successful Missionary For Better Roads—Auto, First Despoised in Some Communities, Seemingly More Popular.

PIONEERS WHO CONDEMNED ARE NOW BUYING AUTOS.

"What Kind of Roads?" Is Now First Asked of Community—A Deciding Factor and Index of Locality. Good Roads Spell Prosperity and Contentment.

That the automobile is the best missionary for good roads has long ago been accepted. In fact, the auto has already accomplished what only a few years back would have seemed incredible.

We know what the auto has done for Hancock county and good roads. We have some of the best roads in the State, and soon will have the best. Every live newspaper is a booster for good roads. Under the heading of automobile and good roads the Hattiesburg News of a recent date contains the following interesting article, worthy of perusal and thought. It says:

Mississippi and other States have the automobiles to thank for the good roads that now exist and are continually being built.

Before these "gasoline wagons" came into general use there were only a few patches of good roads here and there. Such a thing as a continuous good road for a number of miles was found in very few sections of the State during the time of the buggy, wagon and horseback riding.

Today almost every family has a motor vehicle. This applies to both towns and country.

The result is that everybody favors good roads now and that the State is being rapidly made a network of them.

In a certain Mississippi town, about twenty years ago, two citizens who brought the first automobile to the town, were almost ostracized. One was the manager of a cotton mill. The other was a furniture dealer, and horses and mules and people were scared as they approached. The people made threats. Lots of them said, "If they ever cause an accident for me, I am going to kill them." The cotton man looked his car up in the garage, and let it stay. The furniture dealer, more daring, and caring less for public opinion, continued to use his car. Threats grew ominous. It looked bad for him. One day he confided to the local newspaper man that he could no longer stand the pressure because people had quit trading with him and were spending their money with his competitor. He said he had sold his car to a Tennessee man for several hundred dollars. The newspaper that week carried the good news to its readers, and told them that this man's car would soon be gone. There was considerable rejoicing. It riled the furniture dealer, and said, "I have sold my automobile, and sold it for horses—horses, understand, I took no jacksacks in the trade, because there are plenty around here. I have tried to run my car without bothering anybody. I have made it climb telephone poles and jump ditches to keep from bringing some mule team, and my life has been threatened. One rock rifle on me; but, just to show that I am not afraid to face death, I have decided to keep my car a month longer, so the 'dern thing is here yet."

These men were pioneers, and today they are men who are condemned them are riding in cars, and cursing other people for not giving them full right of way. Around the same town there are splendid roads radiating in all directions, and it is doubtful if there is another town of the same size in the State where so many cars of various kinds can be found.

Suppose the auto had never been invented! What kind of roads would we have? Good roads would be the delight of any people and a great pleasure besides.

When we speak of a county or section of country now, one of the first things we ask is: "What kind of roads do they have?"

Let the good word keep on until the State highways and many laterals are built.

Good highways are the best advertisement a county can have, and with plenty of gravel at the side of the roads, Forrest county probably leads the State, not in the most costly, but in number of real good graveled roads.

—Mr. C. A. Younger and son returned yesterday to their home in Alluvial City, La., after a visit to their parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Younger, in Waveland. The Echo learns with interest of Mr. Younger's success, engaged in mercantile pursuit and real estate activities. He is actively interested in Louisiana politics, an aggressive fighter, a better and clearer administration of government. While here Mr. Younger expressed surprise at the rapid rate in which Bay St. Louis has grown, the number of new dwellings noted on every side and the prosperity of the city.

ECHOES FROM ST. STANISLAUS

With S. S. C. Collegians In Class Room and on Campus

The S. S. C. Rock-a-Chaws opened their football season last Sunday by playing the Pensacola Aviators, who defeated them in a hard fought contest.

The sailors received the ball on the kick-off. They were soon off for a touchdown, but were stopped in mid-field, where they were forced to punt out of danger. The Rock-a-Chaws then tried some line bucking, but were unable to do so, in the first half. The ball zig-zagged in mid-field until the second quarter, when a pass from Shelby to Burlington brought the ball to Stanislaus' seven-yard line. A line plunge by Mills then netted in a touchdown for the Aviators. Isabel kicked the goal, making the score 7-0, which remained so during the first half. The Aviators again received the ball in the second half. They were held very much better this time for the Rock-a-Chaws had re-entered the field with a new fighting spirit. The third quarter passed without either side scoring. In the last quarter Gex intercepted a forward pass, then hupled a pass to Baron, which brought the ball on their 20-yard line. Crefasi then carried the ball the rest of the way. Gex failed to kick goal, and the score at the end was 7-6.

Sunday, October 14th, the Little Scorpions will attack the DeMolays of New Orleans. They have been working every evening for this occasion and should prove to have a very good team. Bro. So What's the Use?
Did it ever occur to you that a man's life is full of crosses and temptations? He comes into the world without his consent, and goes out against his will, and the trip between is exceedingly rocky. The rule of contraries is one of the features of this trip.

When he is little, the big girls kiss him; when he is big, the little girls kiss him. If he is poor, he is a bad manager; if he is rich, he is dishonest. If he needs credit, he can't get it; if he is prosperous, everyone wants to do him a favor.

If he is in politics, he is no good to the country; if he doesn't give to charity, he is a stingy cuss; if he does, it's for show.

If he is a devoutly religious, he is a hypocrite; if he takes no interest in religion, he is a hardened sinner.

If he gives affection, he is a soft specimen; if he cares for no one, he is cold-blooded. If he dies young, there was a great future for him; if he lives to an old age, he missed his chance.

If you save money, you're a grouch. If you spend it, you're a loafer. If you get it, you're a graft. If you don't get it, you're a bum.

So what's the use?

In fact, considerable remains and it is not too late to those who failed to avail themselves of the sale to buy now. Call and inspect. It will pay you.

—Howard Russell appears on our local stage with a new play, "The Southern Boy." He is a popular actor throughout the South and the States. At St. Stanislaus Auditorium next Wednesday night.

—The final whistle ended what would have been our game had our boys but a few more minutes to play. In Crefasi it looks like he have some one to take Fruges' place, for the lad seems to have the earmarks of a delivery agent.

We have some dyed-in-the-wool footballers on the field; one dame overheard a glib remark that the Rock-a-Chaws were a bunch of Cornflakes babies, she countered with: "Maybe they are, mister, but what they got sticks in their backs, 'Bettie' fed babies you brought over will soon have the spirits dying out, then you can look for what you carried away a couple of years ago." "Beg your pardon, lady, but the truth is there wasn't one of the players out last night, they all went to bed on time."

"I can't stand any of these visitors knocking our boys," she remarked.

One thing that WAS LACKING, and felt, was the absence of the college spirit in the stands. Cheerless, leaderless, the boys sounded like they were reciting blank verse, or trying to imitate the poor saps that got caught in the mixup at the Tower of Babel. If we were asked what we wanted most, we'd say: Call a Pep Meeting, get the little yard merged with the big yard in on Gym floor, tell these roosters what it means to have a team and to hear the voice of their fellow students in the proper college urge from ye side lines.

Pep and more Pep, is what we want, put it into the following on the sides and the players to a man will get fire with it and win more games than they would otherwise. Every school has had their "Meeting"—have we ours?

Bear Meat Again.
The Bulls sharpened their horns last Sab and gored the luckless Bears again out at the Dunbar Av. park to the tune of 13 to 9 in nine-speedy innings of real base ball. Well, the star did it by the aerial method, because the principal bright luminae, was right felder John Carvin, of the Bulls. Speedy John showed real class throughout the game and proved himself of big league calibre by his wonderful fielding and pegging from his deep position. John has was of a very fine brain and with fly balls, and like the Saurian, when once the horse hide gets bit, there's no chance left for it.

A truce was effected between Smokeball Claib and the Hon. Bill, an dthe city father got back his berth on the Bulls. We understand that the condition of the truce was that Bill should get at least two home runs—all of which the way politician gobbled in four trips to the got the homers, he was to leave an plate. It was also agreed that if Bill interest in Claib's skiff (Claib has sued Bill for alienating the affection of said boat) that's enough to make Bill smack out a homer in every game.

A painful accident occurred during the game when young Larry, in climbing over one of the Forst-Godstands fell and cut his foot on the grandstand fender so that a few stitches had to be taken by the association physician. The lad is doing nicely at last accounts, but strict orders were issued that no "grandstands" would be permitted on the grounds until her fenders were in perfect order, and roofs strong enough to hold some weight.

COLUMN DE BULL.

Athletic and Other Comment

By FULLER BULL, of Bay St. Louis.

Defeated—But!
Last Sunday the Happy Hitting Grounds donned a brand new, mowed and striped suit of the Grid-iron variety. The field that was knee-deep in sticky rock-a-chaws, was transformed into a thing of beauty and a rah forever; it had got a haircut, shave, shampoo and massage all in one—all laid out in the proper manner, with white lines; an, er, a; making it as good a grid as you'd see in a moon's travel, as good, if not better than any in the South.

All dolled up, it was to initiate the football season of 1923.

A crowd estimated at over four hundred sat nervously expectant until the whistle blew.

The Rock-a-Chaws of Stanislaus were facing the Aviators of Uncle Sam, from the Pensacola Naval Station. Warrior faced warrior, grim determination was written on each face as the momentous shrill whistle of the referee sounded the start.

Our mind-cells opened a picture of what took place here on this same grid just two years ago, when the same teams met—when our individual heart sank at the sight of our high-school lads bucking against what seemed to us a stone wall—on one side men of shaven mugs had played the game when our lil boys were at kindergarten; big men, hardened men of heft and brawn, men who had played with Annapolis and some selected on All-American teams for their prowess at the art. Against—well, Friends, Romans, on the other side the eleven fighting Rock-a-Chaws, boys who got tickled when the razor passes over their rosy cheeks to down the fuzz, whose calves feel funny yet at contact with the long pants. But—O, Miss Jenny, REAL fighters, red blooded scrappers, the kind that may get defeated, but are NEVER licked, that sort of never-say-die Americans that does Old Glory proud.

A guy standing on the side lines remarked to us that the teams looked evenly matched. This gazook didn't stop to realize that there's a great deal of difference in an 18 or 19 year old boy of 180 to 200, and a full grown man of some 27 or 28 of the same heft. Stop, Bo, and reckon it over once.

Ma, however, can take nothing away from the Aviators when it comes to being football players; they knew the game and played it for all it was worth; with one lonely exception, a clean cut bunch of gentlemen. The exception happened to be one Mr. McLean, left end for the Navy, who was taken out of the game for deliberately slugging Tony Schiro while the lad was down; it was a dirty trick and put a damper of shame on his fellows on the stands, who openly voiced their regret at having a brute among them.

Two years ago, when the Rock-a-Chaws defeated the Aviators, they did it by the aerial method, because they saw that it was useless to buck that line, this year our passes were few, for some reason best known to the Rocks; but the visitors showed that they had profited by their last visit and evidently had practiced long and hard, for their pass work was of a very fine brand and with but two exceptions, netted them gains.

Their score in the second period however, was a direct line buck from our seven yard line, where their beef showed to advantage, big Mills broke through the lads from the House O'Brains.

In the last quarter, with the pigskin too close to the line, the healthy Viada made one of the most beautiful of punts that went down the "enemy's" territory and, was kept there. A pass intercepted by Walter gave the Rock-a-Chaws the ball on Aviators' ground; a good pass from Walt to Baron made a nice gain, then a pass to Crefasi over on Navy's left end hit the goal (behind the line of scrimmage) and bounced in to Crefasi's arms; he took the ball over, but the score was not allowed by the Referee.

Undaunted, and with only a very few minutes to play, the fighting Rocks got into action and a run around Navy's right end, past the red-top of Burlingame, Crefasi carried the pigskin over for a touchdown, the crowd ran wild, but Walt was too anxious and missed the goal by

COUNTY AGENT O'NEAL DELIVERS ADDRESS.

Attends Annual Banquet of Agricultural Heads at Biloxi Hurday Night—Tells of the Satsuma.

Members of the Department of Agricultural Club held their annual banquet Thursday night at Biloxi. It was a large gathering. Governor Whitfield was the guest of honor. There were entomologists, county agents and representatives of the State and Federal Plant Boards, who have been in South Mississippi engaged in special work.

Hancock county was officially represented. S. F. O'Neal, county agent, was among the speakers of the evening. His subject was the "Satsuma orange," coming factor in development of the South. He spoke of their cultivation and prevention from cold and the best manner of handling for shipment. His subject and discussion were handled from a very viewpoint, conclusively showing that satsuma growing on the Gulf Coast is a coming industry, and his address was well received.

The final whistle ended what would have been our game had our boys but a few more minutes to play. In Crefasi it looks like he have some one to take Fruges' place, for the lad seems to have the earmarks of a delivery agent.

We have some dyed-in-the-wool footballers on the field; one dame overheard a glib remark that the Rock-a-Chaws were a bunch of Cornflakes babies, she countered with: "Maybe they are, mister, but what they got sticks in their backs, 'Bettie' fed babies you brought over will soon have the spirits dying out, then you can look for what you carried away a couple of years ago." "Beg your pardon, lady, but the truth is there wasn't one of the players out last night, they all went to bed on time."

"I can't stand any of these visitors knocking our boys," she remarked.

One thing that WAS LACKING, and felt, was the absence of the college spirit in the stands. Cheerless, leaderless, the boys sounded like they were reciting blank verse, or trying to imitate the poor saps that got caught in the mixup at the Tower of Babel. If we were asked what we wanted most, we'd say: Call a Pep Meeting, get the little yard merged with the big yard in on Gym floor, tell these roosters what it means to have a team and to hear the voice of their fellow students in the proper college urge from ye side lines.

Pep and more Pep, is what we want, put it into the following on the sides and the players to a man will get fire with it and win more games than they would otherwise. Every school has had their "Meeting"—have we ours?

Bear Meat Again.
The Bulls sharpened their horns last Sab and gored the luckless Bears again out at the Dunbar Av. park to the tune of 13 to 9 in nine-speedy innings of real base ball. Well, the star did it by the aerial method, because the principal bright luminae, was right felder John Carvin, of the Bulls. Speedy John showed real class throughout the game and proved himself of big league calibre by his wonderful fielding and pegging from his deep position. John has was of a very fine brain and with fly balls, and like the Saurian, when once the horse hide gets bit, there's no chance left for it.

A truce was effected between Smokeball Claib and the Hon. Bill, an dthe city father got back his berth on the Bulls. We understand that the condition of the truce was that Bill should get at least two home runs—all of which the way politician gobbled in four trips to the got the homers, he was to leave an plate. It was also agreed that if Bill interest in Claib's skiff (Claib has sued Bill for alienating the affection of said boat) that's enough to make Bill smack out a homer in every game.

A painful accident occurred during the game when young Larry, in climbing over one of the Forst-Godstands fell and cut his foot on the grandstand fender so that a few stitches had to be taken by the association physician. The lad is doing nicely at last accounts, but strict orders were issued that no "grandstands" would be permitted on the grounds until her fenders were in perfect order, and roofs strong enough to hold some weight.

OUR SCHOOLS WILL OBSERVE EDUCATION WEEK.

A suggestion has been made to the principals of the public schools of Mississippi, that the Program of American Education Week, November 18 to November 24, be carried out in every community and according to the plans of the United States Bureau of Education. An excellent suggestion and it is hoped it will be carried out.

In conformity with the proclamation of President Coolidge, the Mayor of Bay St. Louis has issued his proclamation. Executives of other communities will do well to do likewise. Bay St. Louis and Hancock county are not lagging in matters of education. On the contrary, this work of development is going forward all the time, and great strides along these lines are noticed from time to time.

Among the features suggested for American Education Week are many that stand out prominently. Among them, says the Hattiesburg American, are special subjects, as federal constitution, patriotism—the practical sort that means loyalty to American ideals of sound citizenship—local school conditions; our duty to foreign-born residents; illiteracy and its elimination; better training for rural teachers; the importance of local libraries and community centers; consideration of equal opportunity in education for every boy and girl.

The week's observance is scheduled to end with a health parade of children. The government bureau has already for distribution pamphlets of material of these various programs.

There are already many "weeks" for this and for that, more than the calendar can consistently carry, but the due observance of Education Week, to say nothing of the material profit, would have a moral effect lasting after the "week" would have come and gone, and it is to be hoped due observance will be the rule over the State and country rather than the exception.

ANOTHER EXAMPLE FOR BUSINESS PEOPLE.

There are still left around Bay St. Louis a few people who contend that newspaper advertising values are overrated. So, for their benefit, we want to call attention to the fact that while the strike of printing pressmen in New York is about at an end, there was one whole week when the New York papers were cut down to four and eight pages, six and eight daily papers combining to make possible even an eight-page paper.

But here is the point. During that week advertising was not accepted, all space in the papers being devoted to news. And merchants of New York publicly announced that if the strike was prolonged for a few weeks many of them would be bankrupt. Stores quickly saw a falling off in the number of customers. Clerks by the thousand were idle behind the counters, with only an occasional sale. The people who read the papers did not find advertising in them—so they quit buying everything except groceries and the things they were forced to have from day to day. Petitions were sent to the papers by the advertisers urging them to hurry and settle the strike, if they possibly could, so advertising could again be secured in their columns.

It is the man who advertises that gets the business, there's no sense in questioning that. As he generally doesn't miss the water until the well runs dry, neither does he notice a loss of customers until he ceases to advertise. The New York example was a fine one to prove the power of printer's ink. And just as advertising has made money for New York merchants in their territory, so it will make money for our merchants right here at home.

LOOK TO THE ROOF—NOW IS THE TIME.

You've heard of the man who never could get his roof mended because when it rained he couldn't do it, and when it didn't rain he didn't need to. But as near as we can learn he wasn't a resident of Bay St. Louis. And yet some of our people are apt to overlook the fact that this is the time of year when the roof must have a renovation. A new shingle applied now is worth ten in the lumber yard, and a new eaves through may mean a dry bedroom. You can decorate inside the house any time you care to, but getting the outside in shape is the most important thing you can look after now, and demands immediate attention. And while we are on the subject and urging individuals to get the roof in shape, let's not forget to call the attention of our business men and women to the fact that a picket isn't as good as a dime, and preachers tell us that it goes to heaven.

THE SATSUMA BELT FOR THE PINE BELT.

S. F. O'Neal, county agent for Hancock, struck the keynote of the evening in Biloxi last week at a gathering of agricultural heads when he delivered an address and confined his subject to the growing of satsumas on the Mississippi Gulf Coast. Mr. O'Neal did not speak at very great length, but what he said, according to reports, keyed more interest and seemed to have carried more consideration, comparatively, than speakers and other subjects of the evening. The occasion was the annual meeting of the Department of Agricultural Club, followed with a banquet, the latter serving as a medium for addresses.

Viewing with the pecan industry, the satsuma is coming into its own on the Gulf Coast. It has been amply demonstrated and to the definite satisfaction of all concerned, the satsuma does best in this section, from the interior of South Mississippi to the coastal line. The tree grows faster, develops and bears at early age, immune from the cold weather of the type reaching this section and as a marketable product and value holds its own. Cultivation of the satsuma is simple enough. The yield is prolific, with a demand that is brisk and prices not only sustaining of the industry but of good financial return and individual profit.

Mr. O'Neal told of the different phases of the satsuma, from producer to the ultimate consumer. His remarks were illuminating. He told of the opening of a new avenue of endeavor for our people, one that was of value to the land owner and orchardist as well and not only impressed his hearers but backed his remarks from experiments and other facts.

It is not only today the cultivation of the satsuma on the Mississippi Gulf Coast is attracting attention. In the more eastern section of the Coast there are quite a number of orchards already paying handsome returns to their respective owners. The same can be done in this section. The great pine belt of South Mississippi is disappearing and in time will be no more save for the efforts of reforestation. It appears the satsuma belt is destined to succeed the pine belt.

WATCH OUT FOR THE FAKES.

We picked up a Saturday Evening Post recently and saw a whole page ad—and we understand a single page ad in it costs $8,000 for one time—an ad warning the women of this country to be on the lookout for sharpers who are abroad in the land selling stockings represented to be of the same make as those turned out by the people who paid for the page ad. "Our stockings are sold only in the stores of this country," reads the ad, and then it tells how the fake salesmen collect a deposit in advance—and never send the stockings. The same thing is also said to be practiced with other goods offered for sale from house to house. The price is always so alluring the good housewife can't resist. But somewhere there's a catch to it; there's regret behind most every sale of this kind. You can get what you need at your home stores, or your home stores can get it for you. And if it isn't exactly what it should be, you can take it back and get your money. Did you ever try to get your money back for some article you bought from a peddler or agent that wasn't exactly as it was originally represented to be?

CROSSING THE TRACKS—A SUGGESTION.

When this year's shistory has been written it is going to show a terrible toll of deaths due wholly to carelessness. Already the Pennsylvania railroad has issued a statement that, despite all warnings, twice as many people have been killed on that company's railroad crossings this year as last. There were 46 killed and 39 injured at crossings on this one system in the month of July alone.

The railroad also makes one statement which we wish every auto driver would remember. The officials say in closing their report: "The Pennsylvania has often operated a whole year without killing a single passenger. But if our locomotive engineers were as careless with the lives of their passengers as the drivers of autos are with their lives, no such record could ever be hoped for."

There's one reliable rule for crossing railroad tracks—go into second! The mere act of reaching for the gear lever to make the shift from high to second will cause you to become watchful. The fact that you can't race with a locomotive when your car is in "second" is another safeguard. And still another is that the chances of "killing" your engine is very small as long as it is running in second speed.

Get the habit of automatically changing into second as you approach a railroad crossing, and it will never be your fault that the number of fatalities in this country are daily growing to an awful proportion.

BULLETIN ON TYPHOID FEVER.

Mississippi State Board of Health and Hancock County Health Department.

The diptheria season is beginning and it is very necessary that we use every possible means of checking the spread of this disease during the coming season. This can be done by co-operation between the physicians, health officers, school authorities and the parents of the State. It is gratifying to state that the disease was decreased during last year in both cases and deaths, for the first time in six years.

If the county health officers are active and the people become sufficiently interested in protecting their children against this disease it will continue to decrease during the coming season. Any child that is allowed to go to school with a sore throat, or any child that has a sore throat, should be watched. It may be the beginning of a case of diptheria and it may be wise for the parent to keep the child at home under observation until it is relieved. It should be stated that mild cases of diptheria may simply cause a sore throat, but these cases are just as dangerous as the more severe cases in spreading the disease.

When it is known that diptheria can be prevented by the use of toxin-antitoxin, it would seem that the parents of Mississippi would avail themselves of this safe and certain preventive measure. Every child in Mississippi from six months to six years of age, should be given toxin-antitoxin without making Schick's test. Perhaps more than 60 per cent of the children in this group are susceptible to diptheria, and therefore it is the part of wisdom to give the toxin-antitoxin to children of this age as a routine procedure. There is practically no reaction among children of this age to the toxin-antitoxin.

Children from seven to ten years of age could also be given the toxin-antitoxin with propriety without being given Schick's test, though it may be looked upon as more scientific to apply Schick's test to this group. A relatively small percentage of children from seven to ten years of age show any reaction to toxin-antitoxin and from this standpoint it is scarcely a sufficient reason for applying Schick's test to determine susceptibility. It is, however, true that a smaller percentage of children are naturally susceptible to diptheria in this group than the ones from six months to six years of age.

The children from 10 to 18 years of age are much less susceptible to diptheria, possibly not more than 15 to 20 per cent would be likely to have diptheria, but probably 15 to 20 per cent of the children in this group would have a reaction, that is, a rise of temperature, aching and a general sense of discomfort. Even though this reaction occurs, there is no danger in administering toxin-antitoxin to the child. This is a discomfort, but diptheria may cause serious illness and possibly death. A few schools in Mississippi have given toxin-antitoxin to all of the children without giving Schick's test. The important point to emphasize is that all children between six months and six years of age should take toxin-antitoxin as matter of routine.

It is hoped that the physicians of the State will encourage mothers to have children immunized against diptheria. The school authorities should be vigilant in looking after the children in the event of a suspicious case and see that the proper preventive measures are instituted in checking the spread of diptheria.

A COMMUNITY OF OWNERS NATION WIDE

"Who owns the company?" "What is behind it?" These questions are asked in appraising the soundness of a business and in determining its aims.

The American Telephone and Telegraph Company is owned by more than 270,000 people living in every state in the Union. Could the stockholders of the Bell System be gathered to one place, they would equal the population of a city about the size of Providence or Denver.

They constitute a representative cross-section of American citizenship. Among them, of course, are bankers and men of large affairs; for the idea of ownership in the Bell System appeals to sound business judgment and a trained sense of values.

In this community of owners are the average man and woman, the storekeeper, the clerk, the salesman, the professional man, the farmer and the housewife—users of the telephone who with their savings have purchased a share in its ownership. The average individual holding is but twenty-six shares.

No institution is more popularly owned than the Bell System; none has its shares distributed more widely. In the truest sense it is owned by those it serves.

All of which is respectfully submitted.
SAM C. LADNER,
Treasurer of Hancock County.
State of Mississippi, Hancock County.
I, Peter Tudury, Assistant Cashier of the Hancock County Bank of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, do hereby certify that at the close of business on September 29th, 1923, the balances to the credit of the several funds of said County, with said bank as the County Depository, including the sixteenth section school funds, amounted to the sum of $613,992.35.

PETER TUDURY,
Assistant Cashier Hancock Co. Bk.

Whereas Jos. L. Favre, member from Beat No. 5, reported to the Board that the roads in his beat were not being kept up according to plans and specifications; and whereas the Board is of the opinion that the matter should be continued until the next meeting of this Board, at which time the matter will be investigated; it is therefore ordered that the bill of J. D. Lee, contractor, be and is hereby laid over until the regular November meeting of said Board, at which time the Board will investigate the condition of his roads in Beat No. 5.

Be it ordered by the Board that the following amounts be allowed and paid out of the General County Fund, as per bills on file, examined and approved, to-wit:

LEE TOWN SCHOOL.

Events are moving on happily for most of the pupils in our school. We've been looking forward to the Boys' Club Fair and the box supper, both of which we hope to enjoy.

The following pupils in the principal's room have been on the honor roll for the scholastic month of September: Morrell Lee, Oren Lee, Culen Lee, Rhoda Lee, May Lee, Opal Lee, Dovie Lee and Forest Necaize. We hope to see more names on the honor roll for October.

CITY ECHOES.

—Yes, we have no bananas, but all sorts of rummage. October 26th-27th.

—Mr. Harry McKilligan has rented the cottage of Mr. H. S. Saucier at 117 Union street, for his mother and sister, Miss Georgette, for the winter.

—Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Saucier and their charming family have leased the Vnou cottage, No. 120 Union street, where they are cozyly domiciled and "at home" to their friends.

—There is always something of unusual interest and of value in The Echo's classified ad column. Among the number this week is a walnut bed, with brass canopy and spring, for $5. Can you beat it?

—Dr. A. P. Smith returned from Biloxi and Gulfport Monday afternoon with a handsome and brand-new Ford sedan, of latest type, purchased through the local office of Edwards Bros., Ford selling representatives, Bay St. Louis, Gulfport and Biloxi.

—Mr. and Mrs. Victor Capors returned to New Orleans Sunday afternoon, after spending the week-end at their summer home on the beach front at Cedar Point. While there they visited Mr. and Mrs. George R. Rea.

—Mr. and Mrs. P. V. Lacoste have returned from New York City, where they spent a few weeks, enjoying metropolitan attractions, and keeping with their annual custom. Mr. Lacoste, who preceded Mrs. Lacoste, East, spent quite a while in Canada, at Montreal and other far points.

—Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Genin, on the beach front. Mr. Prague was the honoree of a fishing expedition, the piscatorial party returning with ample reward for their time and patience.

—Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Jordy have moved from Waveland to Bay St. Louis and are located in the attractive new Beuhler bungalow in Union, head of Second street. Mr. Jordy commutes to New Orleans daily while the children enjoy the educational advantages of Bay St. Louis.

—Mr. and Mrs. John D. Grace and daughter, Miss Evelyn, passed through Bay St. Louis Monday night en route to New York City, as is their annual custom, where they will spend the balance of the fall season, shopping, attending the theatres, while Mr. Grace will attend to professional business.

—Mr. John S. Reynard, the well known disbarred clerk of the New Orleans customhouse, came over Thursday to spend a few days with his friend, Mr. Harry S. Saucier, in Union street, and says that no part of it can compare with Bay St. Louis.

—Annual statement of the city of Bay St. Louis, as required by law, appearing of date October 1st, showing receipts and disbursements of the city for the year, appears officially in this issue of The Echo. It is quite interesting and will bear close perusal. The statement shows a careful and excellent business administration of the city's finances. Statement of the different funds appears.

—Mr. Jos. O. Mauffray returned home Tuesday morning from Pascagoula, where he spent the evening previously installing recently elected officers of K. C. Council as one of the State officials of the order. Mr. Mauffray also performed the installation ceremonies at Biloxi Thursday night. He is one of the active and most successful executives of the State in the K. C. order.

—Watch next week for Rummage contest.

—Public is invited to the sham battle at Dunbar avenue and Felicite street, tomorrow—Sunday—afternoon, at 2 o'clock, under auspices of the Howitzer Company, Mississippi National Guard, Bay St. Louis, Educational and entertaining. Bring the children. There will be a number of demonstrations. Bay-St. Louis is very proud of its local military, and the "boys" ought to be encouraged.

—Mr. E. Ansley left Wednesday night for St. Louis, Mo., where he is to assume the position of general superintendent of one of the largest office and general commercial buildings, attending to rentals, leasing and collections. It is quite a splendid calling and he was followed by the best wishes of local friends. His sons, Myka, Leonard and Alwyn, are successfully located in St. Louis.

—The engagement of Miss Inez Blaize, accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raphael S. Blaize, to Mr. Alphonse G. Favre, son of Hon. and Mrs. Jos. L. Favre, both of Bay St. Louis, has been announced, the wedding to take place October 24th, at the Church of Our Lady of the Gulf. The groom is deputy clerk of the courts, a deserving and most worthy young man. In advance The Echo extends best wishes and congratulations.

—Mrs. P. Boudin was taken to New Orleans during the week-end, where she underwent an operation at Hotel Dieu, for appendicitis and other ailment. Dr. Allen of that city, surgeon. Friends will learn with interest of the success of the ordeal and that the patient is doing nicely. Mrs. Boudin is well known, one of the best civic and community workers connected with organized work, and has many friends who will seek to learn of her early and permanent recovery with concern.

—Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Maloney and daughter, Miss Leonie Baragon, have returned to New Orleans after a two-week stay in one of the finest properties in Carroll avenue. The dwelling was recently purchased by Mr. Ralph Seller, of Fenton, who is planning to move his family to Bay St. Louis within the next week, or two, after the property will have undergone a slight remodeling and interior treatment. The new owners are acquaintances of the local community.

P. J. MAUFFRAY PASSES AWAY AT HOME IN NEW ORLEANS.

End Came Friday Afternoon—Remains Reached Bay St. Louis Saturday Morning—Interment Took Place at Fenton Saturday.

A native son of Hancock county, loved, honored and respected by all who were privileged to know him, P. J. Mauffray died at the family home in New Orleans Friday afternoon of last week, following an illness.

The remains were conveyed to Bay St. Louis Saturday morning and taken to Fenton, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Joseph Curet, from which place the funeral took place, interment in the family burial plot at Fenton Cemetery.

One of three brothers, Mr. Mauffray is survived by C. A. Mauffray (father of Jos. O. Mauffray), Fenton, and Julian A. Mauffray, of Mississippi City. Two daughters and two sons also survive. These are Mrs. Joseph Curet, Mrs. M. J. Tilson, Miss Helena Mauffray and Victor Mauffray.

He was a native of Hancock and was in his 79th year, a man of fine physique and remarkably preserved for one nearing his 80th year. Excepting for the last few years, which were spent in New Orleans, Mr. Mauffray spent all of his life in Hancock county, a citizen of excellent type. He served his community in various capacities, and his services on the Board of Supervisors as a member are well remembered by all who appreciate the efforts of a faithful servant, true to the sacred trust of public service; and weighed in the balance and not found wanting. Mr. Mauffray had a high regard for all that was true and correct, and his sense of duty was keen. In fact, he was well known by the sobriquet "Honest John," an appellation that was indeed fitting.

The Echo regrets exceedingly to have to chronicle the departure of one whose memory is so enshrined in the hearts and minds of all who knew him, and even though he had long lived the span of life allotted by scripture. But his name has been indelibly impressed in the annals of his time, and even though no more of the flesh, he liveth.

The immediate family and other relatives have the sympathy of all who know them and knew their departed one.

BOXING EXHIBITION MONDAY NIGHT AT ARMY.

Local Military Has Good Card for 15th at Army in Second Street. "Kangaroo" Cameron and Sailor Johnson, of New Orleans, Headliners.

The 155th Howitzer Company, Mississippi National Guard, have arranged another good card in their boxing exhibition, which is to take place next Monday night at their Army, in Second street. In view of the fact that the sport is kept of the very cleanest order and of a type where the fair sex can go without suffering indignity, our soldiers are drawing good crowds at each fight, and it is expected that next Monday will see a full house.

The principal event of the evening will be an eight-round bout between Kangaroo (Harry) Cameron, of the Kiwi, and Sailor Johnson, of New Orleans. That should prove an attractive event, as Cameron has shown decided improvement in his art as a fighter, and even though he is going up against an older head with experience, it is a foregone conclusion that the Kangaroo will give a good account of himself.

Red Cady is to battle Will Luxich for six rounds in the semi-final, both are aggressive fighters and it should be worth the price of admission. Louis Favre and Kid Tomasich will furnish the amusement in the prelim. Both are good prelim boys. Kid Tomasich knocked out his man in the last time out, which, by the way, was his first appearance in the ring.

Considering the small price of admission, $1.00, and the value of the entertainment, the fight should draw a big crowd.

APRON AND FOOD SALE NEXT THURSDAY.

Catholic Neighborhood Circle No. 1 to Hold Sale in Battistella Bldg. General Public Invited to Liberally Patronize.

On Thursday afternoon and evening, October 25th, there will be held an Apron and Food Sale, under the auspices of Catholic Neighborhood Circle No. 1, in the Battistella building, on North Front street, formerly the K. C. Hall. There will be all kinds of aprons, both fancy and practical, at reasonable prices. Delicious home-made doughnuts, cookies and iced cakes, hot coffee and cocoa, chicken and potato salad, also chicken and other kinds of sandwiches will be for sale.

It is hoped that the general public will liberally patronize the sale, as it will be given for a good cause, and those in charge of the affair promise to all "their money's worth."

—Oh, Min! Don't buy your new fur coat till October 26th-27th. Rummage Sale.

—Mr. and Mrs. John D. Grace and family, who have been spending the summer and early fall at "Grace Villa," on the Waveland beach front, returned to New Orleans Monday morning, closing their summer home for the season. It is their intention, however, to frequently visit during the winter. During the gay season the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. Grace was frequently the scene of charming entertainment, Mrs. Grace being assisted in receiving by her charming and accomplished daughters, Misses Virginia, May and Evelyn Grace.

—Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Muller returned from New Orleans to their summer home in Citizen street Wednesday evening, after spending a few days with friends and relatives in New Orleans. They have as guests Mr. Muller's sisters, Mrs. M. Coig and Mrs. E. Draube, who recently returned from Chulavista, Cal., where they spent the summer. Mrs. Draube is also visiting her daughter, Mrs. Wambach, and son-in-law, at the family summer home in St. Charles street.

Work and Play at S. J. A.

News Notes of Personal and General Interest From St. Joseph's Academy.

Mother Augustine returned home Monday noon, looking rejuvenated, after her first in New Orleans.

Monday afternoon the Seniors and Juniors received a half holiday to attend the circus at Gulfport. Among those who attended were Irene Selier, Clara Baize, Regina Blaize, Gertrude Calhoun, Juliet Perre, Adrienne Combe and Genevieve Green. Everyone had an enjoyable time.

Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock the new members were received into the Angels Sodality, which now numbers 130 members.

Among the interesting features of Friday's patriotic program was a short talk on "Why We Should Celebrate Columbus Day," composed and delivered by Ellen May Welch. Being interesting and well declaimed, it was greatly enjoyed.

The pupils of the fifth, sixth and seventh grades sang "Columbus," Anna Mae Blaize impersonating the great admiral.

Genevieve Green recited Miller's famous poem, "Columbus," "America," "Star-Spangled Banner," "Salute to the Flag," formed parts of the program. In honor of the occasion classes were dismissed sooner than usual.

Louise Pol spent the week-end with her parents at Pascagoula. Judging by her happy smile, all know she had a very pleasant time.

Alice Palanque spent several days in New Orleans.

Visitors. Dr. and Mrs. Rouse, Mrs. Pol, Mrs. Araguel and Mrs. T. Sliman.

POPULAR YOUNG PEOPLE GIVE FRIENDS PLEASANT SURPRISE.

Mr. Townsend Wolfe and Miss Edwige Eagan, Accompanied With "Best Man," Take Trip to Hattiesburg, Miss., and Are Joined in Wedding.

Mr. Townsend Wolfe, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. N. Burg, of this city, and Miss Edwige Eagan, daughter of Mrs. Lydia Eagan and granddaughter of Judge J. A. Breath, were married at Hattiesburg, Miss., at a late hour Friday night. The news of their marriage, announced by a telegram the next morning, was quite a pleasant surprise to their many friends.

The young couple, accompanied by Mr. Eugene Ansley, who stood as "best man" at the ceremony, left here Friday night in the groom's automobile and journeyed to the Hub City, where they procured the necessary license and forthwith were married by a local J. P. This civil ceremony, however, was followed the next morning on their return to Bay St. Louis by the religious form, Rev. Father Gmelch, of the Church of Our Lady of the Gulf, performing the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Wolfe have leased one of the bungalows in Union street and gone to housekeeping. Mr. Wolfe is engaged in business pursuit in New Orleans and commutes daily.

The young couple are highly connected on both sides, have many friends and are well and popularly known in social circles, and have the best wishes and congratulations of the many who know them.

DEATH OF ESTIMABLE FORMER BAY ST. LOUIS WOMAN.

Mrs. Patrick J. McGinn Passed Away Monday Night at Home of Daughter, in New Orleans, at Early Hour, Following Illness.

While it was known Mrs. P. J. McGinn had been ill from time to time, and later her condition was critical, the community was shocked Tuesday morning to learn that this estimable and well known woman had passed away the night previous.

In an unconscious condition for several days, the patient passed away peacefully, surrounded by her loved ones, shortly after 9 o'clock Monday night, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. R. W. Taylor, 8001 Hickory street, with whom she made her home, and from which place the funeral took place the following afternoon. Interment was at Greenwood Cemetery, New Orleans.

Mrs. McGinn is survived by her husband, four daughters: Esther, wife of R. W. Taylor; Lucy, wife of Capt. C. L. Waller, and Rosetta and Ann; two sons, Joseph E. and Samuel McGinn, and several grandchildren. She was a native of New Orleans, and before her marriage was Miss Ann Lucas.

Mrs. McGinn was a woman of accomplishment; a graduate of one of the New Orleans institutions and in her younger days a musician of ability. A devout member of the Catholic Church, practicing her religion as a devout and practical Christian. Her charities were numerous and her Christian virtues will serve as an example for emulation to those left behind. She was a devoted wife and loving mother. In turn, she was loved and honored in the home, and her departure will be felt as long as her memory will survive by those who knew and loved her best.

The heart-broken family have the tenderest sympathy of all who know them, and none the less the Bay St. Louis friends and acquaintances, in whose midst Mrs. McGinn had spent a greater part of her life.

Truly, a good and noble woman has gone to her reward.

Rough and "Fighting Blood," SATURDAY, OCTOBER 20.

"The Pride of Palomar," a comedy, in production, and two comedies.
